

Thomas F. DeJoseph Biography

Tom received his BBA from Western Connecticut State University and his MBA from the University of Connecticut. He has been in the railroad industry for fifty years, beginning in 1968 on the New Haven Railroad as an Agent-Operator. In 1970 he was employed by the Penn Central Transportation Company as an Operations Planning Analyst in New York then joining the Southern Railway's Management Training Program in 1974 and working for the Southern until 1978 finishing up as Sales Representative in New York.

In 1978 he joined Sperry Rail Service and spent twenty-six years with Sperry in various positions. From 1990 until 2003, he served as President of Sperry. After working as a consultant for almost two years, he joined Loram in August of 2005 and was promoted to VP Marketing & Sales in April 2008. June 1, 2016 Tom transitioned to Senior Advisor, Industry Relations.

Since 1975, he has officiated football and served as a referee on the staff of the Atlantic Coast Conference. He has officiated numerous bowl games, including the Peach, Cotton and Liberty Bowls, the 2009 National Championship game and the 2006 Army-Navy Classic. At present he works as an Instant Replay Official for the ACC.

Having served the railway industry for his entire adult life, Tom is heartened by how the industry embraces new technology while protecting the memories of a glorious past. He feels the railway industry will continue to grow and be recognized as the green leader for transportation services in the global marketplace. Tom's vast experience and intimate knowledge of railway systems and processes will prove to be an invaluable asset in assisting the RSI membership to gain greater recognition in Washington and state capitals around the country.
